Fly Fishing with Anglers of Honor

It's the first Anglers of Honor outing of the year! The weather is perfect along with the natural beauty of Lincoln Hills and Boulder Creek. We have an enthusiastic group of vets and soldiers. We start with the basics of fly fishing, casting, gear and knots. Now it's time to put on the waders and head to the creek with our guides. Everyone manages to put a trout or two in the net and all are safely released for another day. We meet back up at the eco-center deck from some BBQ and fish stories. Another successful day of fishing and fun in the outdoors!
